Parent Line counsellors can help with any concerns about your growing child, including questions about:

- Communicating – is it hard for you and your child to understand each other?
- Movement – does your child need extra help to sit, crawl or walk?
- Learning – is your child finding it hard to learn new things?
- Behaviour – would you like some ideas to improve your child’s cooperation?
- Emotions – is it difficult to manage your child’s tantrums?
- Social – does your child find it hard to get along with others?
- Sleeping – are you struggling with settling and sleep?
